

Lola Young

Non-executive Director

A writer and campaigner, Lola was appointed to the House of Lords in 2004, as an independent crossbench peer. She founded the first All Party Parliamentary Group on Ethics and Sustainability in Fashion. She has been a Board member of several cultural and creative organisations, and presented the podcast series, The Colour Green.

Lola is currently Chancellor of University of Nottingham, co-chair of the Foundation for Future London and an NED with Bloomsbury Publishing PLC.